

STUDENT ADMISSION TO THE HEALTH AND LIFE SCIENCES

DOCTORAL SCHOOL

ADMISSION EXAMS

The admission exams are held in two stages:

1. Eligibility: Review of Applications
2. Oral exam for admission: in face-to-face presentation

The 25-minute oral exam has 2 parts:

- a. In the first part (15 minutes), the candidate presents his career (5 minutes maximum) and a research project (about 10 minutes) of his choice, selected from the pool of fictitious projects* proposed by the Doctoral School.
- b. In the second part (10 minutes), the candidate must answer questions from the jury.

* The fictitious research projects will be posted on the server from June 21st 2024. This research project will not match any of the proposed thesis topics and will contain one or two general bibliographical references to help the candidate. The latter is asked to describe a feasible research project within the framework of a thesis, with an introduction, a presentation of methods and possible results. The aim is to enable the candidate to express his ability to analyze a problem.
